MOUNT GIVEN $10,000 GRANT BY KELLOGG

Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., was one of eight private, small, liberal arts colleges which were given grants of $10,000 each by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to improve the quality of its teacher preparation programs and to increase the effectiveness of its library services generally.

These grants are part of a series in a nationwide three-year program during which a total of $2,500,000 will be given by the Foundation to approximately 250 of the nation's liberal arts colleges. Institutions considered for the grants were those which have regional accreditation, well-organized teacher education programs, and real need for financial assistance to improve their libraries. The Foundation funds are to be used for the purchase of books only.

SCHOOLS TO BENEFIT

Gerald C. Orosz, assistant professor of education and director of the student-teacher program at the Mount, said that the grant will be of major benefit to the student-teacher program not only in specific educational materials but on the major departmental level of study of the individual student as well.

He further said that 46 bachelor degrees in education were awarded at the recent graduation exercises of 152 seniors. During the spring semester 36 student teachers spent their final semester of study teaching in the Gettysburg, Waynesboro, Taneytown, Fairfield, Littlestown, Emmitsburg and Union Bridge High Schools. Orosz added that the increased enrollment in the teacher preparation program next year will necessitate the inclusion of other area schools into the program. "Thus, not only will the Mount benefit by the Kellogg grant but area schools will benefit in an indirect manner," he said.

Luxury Train Catapults Down 100-Ft. Embankment; Baby Is Killed; 219 Hurt

By JACK ZYGMOND

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—A Northern Pacific luxury train shot off a mountain curve in western Montana Sunday, killing a child and injuring 219 of its 350 passengers.

Of the 219 persons injured, 151 were treated and released. Sixty-eight were held for further treatment and observation. Still others, taken to a Missoula hotel to await further transportation, complained of bumps and bruises but did not seek hospital aid.

Only two of the 17 cars remained on the rails in the dawn derailment, which may cost the railroad $1 million.

The other 15 cars of the Seattle-Chicago North Coast Limited carrying many visitors home from the World's Fair catapulted down a 100-foot embankment 15 miles northwest of Missoula.

Two of the olive-green passenger cars plunged all the way to the bottom, coming to rest in a ditch along U.S. Highway 93 and 10A.

The nose of one car smashed deep into the ditch, scooping up mud that buried Teresa Ann Doorns of Ekalaka, Mont. Teresa, who would have been 3 June 30, was the first North Coast Limited passenger to be killed in 62 years.

Investigators are looking into the possibility of air brake failure. Reports from passengers and train personnel suggested the train was exceeding the 35-m.p.h. speed limit for the curve.

The train's speed recorder tape will be given to Interstate Commerce Commission investigators, a Northern Pacific official said at St. Paul, Minn. He wouldn't divulge what the recorder showed, except to say the speed was a "good deal slower" than 100 m.p.h.

HAD EARLIER MISHAP

The derailment came a little more than three months after a similar train, westbound, ran off the tracks and into a lake near Athol, Idaho. Two crewmen were killed in that wreck. Its cause is still a mystery.

Most of the passengers were

The auto was demolished. Police said they had no explanation of the accident. Clark appeared to be awake and alert, Kane said, prior to the accident. sleeping or just awakening at 4:40 a.m. as the train crashed a mile short of a trestle that spans a 300-foot canyon.

The body of the Dooms child was clawed out of the mud by a frantic woman. Another child buried in mud in the same car was rescued.

The train had passed over one mile of an eight-mile descent on winding Evaro Hill, which drops 1,100 feet.

PORTER GOT DIZZY

"I noticed we were starting to pick up speed," said Jesse O'Connor of Chicago, a Pullman porter. "All of a sudden, I noticed such a fast rate of speed that I got dizzy."

Wendell Wardell of Billings, Mont., a passenger, said, "We were going so fast that our car leaned way over to one side. The car rocked back and forth twice, and I could observe the second car jackknife and pull the rest of the cars over the bank."

The last two cars on the train—a Vista Dome Pullman and a Pullman club car—remained upright. The others twisted in all directions over 500 to 600 feet of the wooded area.

One of the four diesel engines broke in half. All of them spilled off the tracks.

Engineer E. E. Lynn and fireman Jerry Haines, both of Missoula, suffered minor cuts. Lynn was quoted by a railroad spokesman as saying the train lost air pressure as it started downhill.

About 100 National Guardsmen plus Red Cross disaster workers and others joined doctors and nurses in helping the wreck victims. The injured were taken to three hospitals.

Of the 219 persons received at the hospitals, 151 were treated and released. Sixty-eight were held for further treatment and observation.

The derailment tore up 500 feet of track. Repairing this damage and clearing the wrecked cars away will take several days. Passenger trains will use a freight line.

The estimate of $1 million in claims and damages was made by a railroad official, who asked that his name not be used.

GETS $400 FOR FEW CIGARS AT HANOVER BANK

Hanover police are looking for a man who walked into the Peoples National Bank of Hanover Friday at about 10:30 a.m., posed as a father just blessed with a new child, passed a bogus check and walked out $400 richer.

According to reports given to police by bank employees, a man unknown to all came into the bank. He told the employees his wife had just given birth to a girl and he passed cigars to several of the male employees. Then he left the bank.

The man returned about 12:30, police stated. Prior to his second entrance, the bank received a telephone call in which the caller identified himself as "Dr. Wright of the Hanover General Hospital" and asked if a person of the subject's description was in the bank. After the employee, answering the call said the man was not in the building, he was asked to have the man call the hospital if he returned.

TOOK MOST IN CASH

On his return the "new father" was given the message and proceeded to "call the hospital." After using the telephone he approached William Reese, a teller and presented a check drawn on the Littlestown State Bank, dated June 8, and payable to Robert C. Brown in the amount of $496.40 with the maker listed as James A. Klein and Sons. The check was endorsed "Robert C. Brown."

Police said Reese, assuming that the man was a regular customer of the bank because of his earlier actions, accepted the check of which $96.40 was to be deposited to "his account" and $400 in cash to be given to him.

NO ACCOUNT, NO BABY

After the man left the bank, Reese made the deposit and discovered there was no account for Robert C. Brown. A check with the Littlestown State Bank revealed there was no account there under either name appearing on the check.

A description of the man indicated that he is white, possibly in his early thirties, about six feet four or five inches tall, about 185 to 210 pounds, dark complexion, wearing sunglasses and a knit sport shirt.

Police, checking with Dr. Frederick W. Wright and Dr. F. Malcolm Wright at the hospital, said neither one had called the bank. A further check of the hospital revealed no birth or patient with the last name of Brown was in the hospital within the last three days.

College Choir On State Dept. List

Word has been received in the Gettysburg College department of music that the college choir has been placed on the approved list of artistic attractions from which the Department of State draws its talent for the cultural exchange program.

The choir submitted its credentials to the American National Theater and Academy of New York which evaluates the artistic merits of hundreds of applicants each year. Approval by ANTA is prerequisite to selection by the State Department and carries the high endorsement of nationally known scholars and artists who make up the NATA selection board.

The choir is continuing its planning to sing at the Lutheran World Federation assembly in Helsinki, Finland, in August, 1963, and to make an extensive concert and educational tour of continental Europe and the Scandinavian countries. Included in the list of countries to be visited will be Norway, Sweden, Denmark, England, Scotland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France. A series of concerts is anticipated in both West and East Berlin. A concert agent in London is handling European arrangements for the choir.

Her veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and taffeta. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, baby's-breath and roses.

John Breighner, York Springs, brother of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Bernard Guise and Frederick Herold, York, both brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother was attired in a sheer pink voile with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a navy print dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the reception held in the social room of the church, the couple left on a short wedding trip after which they will be at their newly furnished apartment at Biglerville R. 1.

BECK LOSES LAST APPEAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review the conviction of Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, on charges of filing false federal tax returns for the union for 1950 and 1952.

The high tribunal, in a May 14 decision on another appeal, affirmed conviction of Beck on a charge of embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of an automobile owned by the union. He was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment on the embezzlement conviction. The sentence was pronounced in a Washington State court.

Beck's conviction on the tax charge was in federal court in Tacoma, Wash., in 1958. He was sentenced there to five years in prison and fined $20,000.

The U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco on Jan. 20, 1962, upheld Beck's conviction of filing false tax returns for his union. At the same time it set aside his conviction of evading more than $240,000 in income taxes. The Circuit Court called for a new trial on the evasion charges, on which Beck had been sentenced to five years and $40,000 fine.

Littlestown 3 QUARTETTES SING AT LHS ON SATURDAY

"The Cosmos," a barbershop chorus of approximately 30 voices from Reisterstown entertained with a lively program on Saturday night in the Littlestown High School auditorium. The two-hour concert was received by an appreciative audience and included three barbershop quartets: "The Encores," Catonsville; "The Solidaires," Baltimore; and "The Chesapeake Troubadours," also of Baltimore.

The appearance of the groups was sponsored jointly by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Woman's Club. The audience learned that "The Cosmos" were organized on September 7, 1960 and the chorus is directed by Francis Florentina.

The program opened with introduction by Dick Selby, vice president of the Jaycees, of John Farrell, emcee for "The Cosmos." The chorus appeared on stage with the first selection, "I Want A Girl." A medley of old songs and "Down Our Way" followed.

REFRESHMENTS SERVED

The Encores sang "County Fair" and "Lida Rose"; "The Solidaires" sang "Hopefully" and "Oh, What A Pal Was Mary"; "The Chesapeake Troubadours" sang a song about their name and "Make Up Your Mind." Miss Robin Thomas, Miss Junior Miss of Adams County, who won her title on the same stage several weeks ago, was presented with a bouquet by Wilson Bowers, president of "The Cosmos," and the chorus dedicated a number "Sweet Rose of Morn" to Miss Thomas. The first half of the program concluded with "Dream River" and "Cruising in My Model T."

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria during intermission by Junior Woman's Club members. The second half of the program presented the quartette first and they captivated their audience with humor and these selections: "Muskrat Song," "Golden Days Gone By" and "Down in Jungle Land." The Solidaires: "All the World Will Be Jealous of Me," "Hard Hearted Hannah" and "Wonderful One." The Encores: "Sweet Adeline," "The Girl That Men Forget" and "Bye Bye Blues," the Troubadours.

The Cosmos sang "Minnie the Mermaid" and a medley "Dear Old Girl" and "My Wild Irish Rose," and "Mighty Like a Rose," dedicated to the conductor, who became the father of a baby boy Saturday.

Concluding selections were "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and "Goodbye My Coney Island Baby." Personnel of the three quartettes joined the chorus in "God Bless America" and the finale "Keep America Singing," which is the theme song of the SPEBSQSA, and which words appeared in large red, white and blue letters across the front of the stage. The stage backdrop was a barber pole surrounded by gold stars.

Paul F. Bolter, president of the local Jaycees chapter, and Mrs. Faye Daum, president of the Junior Woman's Club, were co-chairmen of the general committee on arrangements.

We want them to know where the Republican Party stands on all the great issues confronting this state and nation. We want them to know that we are not a welfare state party or a spendthrift party, but rather a party for all the people, for the common welfare of everybody.

"If the Republicans in Adams and other counties do their share of campaigning and tell the people what is going on we will have little trouble winning in November."

After an informal reception following the dinner, the Van Zandts returned to Washington.

MSGR. BOLEN

Schmidt; presentations by the sisters and pupils of Sacred Heart School, sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary and a parish gift by Henry Moore, spokesman. Msgr. Bolen spoke briefly and the assembly sang "Holy God We Praise Thy Name." Mrs. Eugene Groft was the organist, Miss Sally Ann Sneeringer, was the pianist and Murren was the master of ceremonies.

In his address Msgr. Mulcahy said in part:

"We are gathered today in this restored church of unrivaled beauty and historic importance to honor a priest whom Our Holy Father has honored. How well the words of our text apply to this priest and to this venerable parish. 'I love Thy house in its beauty, the place where Thy own glory dwells.' How well this priest knows that his papal honor is awarded to his priesthood and to his parish."

"There is one great awareness, one stark realization, in the life of a priest that, as life goes on, raises every priest above the competitive strivings of earth and gives him a divine measuring rod with which to value any earthly honor or position that may come to him. Like the rich man who possesses so much that he need not care about possessions; or the poor man who knows there is no use worrying about possessions, the priest, clutching to himself the most precious possession in the world, can smile alike while the world applauds him or while the world rejects him."

A PRIEST FOREVER

"For a priest can never forget that at a certain place, on a certain day, at a certain moment, he became a priest forever."

"Nor can he forget that, on the day following his ordination, wearing the eucharistic vestments of the church, he made his way to an altar and completed the action known as the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass."

"At the altar day after day the priest represents Christ and represents what Christ did at the Last Supper. As he bends to pronounce the holy words at the consecration, he believes and knows on the word of God that into the white water of bread and wine come the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus, the Son of God. What man, not a priest, has an awareness more sublime than this?"

"So, whether he is a successful professor in the most important area of Catholic education, the training of priests; whether he is an authority on liturgy and history; whether he is a successful administrator who can point to monuments of his success; whether he is made a member of the personal household of our loved Holy Father as a domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor; whether, even, he should become a bishop with the fullness of the priesthood and the power to ordain other priests; whether, indeed, he should be elevated to the papacy and become the Vicar of Christ on earth — none of the further honors or powers can surpass the sublime dignity or the immensity of the powers of one who can say, 'I am a priest! O God, thy last and least!'"

"GREAT REJOICING"

"Little wonder then that this is a day of great rejoicing and high resolve for your parish, for your brother priests, for Mount Saint Mary's, for your family, for your friends. Remembering your generous priestly labors for goodness, beauty and truth in the souls of men, in the vision of seminarians, in the very house of God, we take this shrine as a monument of your priesthood and exclaim for you, How well, Lord, I love Thy house in all its beauty, the place where Thy own glory dwells."

Today's Talk
BUNK
I do not know who first invented
this very expressive word — bunk.
But he or she must have been a very understanding and wise person, for I know of no word so fitting.

One cannot always find this word in a small dictionary, in its slang meaning, so I shall have to give it my own definition. Let us say that "bunk" is a term used to express every idea that is in itself insincere, and full of froth.

And it seems to me that there is more bunk being passed around these days than ever before. Why is it that so many people have to represent themselves as something that they are not? Why is it that the simple truth isn't the most attractive thing in the world? Even at times, this self-same truth may be the most sensational fact that could be stated.

Bunk impresses no one. Sooner or later it dies at its own doorstep. No one wants it in one's plan. It deceives no one but the deaf and dumb in mind.

What a wholesome thing it is to meet someone who is simple and sincere, making no pretenses beyond what he or she actually is
— and often emphasizing his or her worth by this very method of sincere approach and honest bearing.

I recall attending a banquet at which many guests were called upon to speak. Now, to my notion, banquets, conventions and business "conferences" are things I can easily do without. And at this particular banquet many witty and entertaining speeches were given, most of them salted with this, shall I call it American product, of bunk! Then a simple, elderly gentleman stood up and gave a talk so sincere, so sparkling with its human appeal that he had the diners all on their feet.

He saved the evening. As I look back upon this occasion I can recall none but that one speaker, so deeply did he impress me and every other guest present.

Human nature has many innings, but no one has ever knocked out a "home run" with bunk!

Happiness."

DELAWARE RIVER BASIN COMMISSION BEGINS TASK

Editor's note: The federal government and the states of Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey have joined to form the Delaware River Basin Commission—giving it great power of control over water usage and the development and conservation of water resources. Associated Press staff writer Noah Halper, in a five-part series, explores what this means to people in the four states. The following is the first article.

By NOAH HALPER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There has been 40 years of talk about developing the water resources of the Delaware River and its basin.
Now, the do-something phase has begun.

The hurricane-spawned floods of 1955, taking 100 lives and causing 100 million damage, and the drought of 1957, which brought curtailed water usage and huge crop losses, graphically illustrated
the need for controlling and husbanding the waters of the Delaware and its tributaries.

Projects envisioned by the Delaware River Basin Commission could have minimized the effects of each of these disasters, the flooding by some 45 per cent.

PLANNING TO 2,010
The commission, basically using Army Engineers' reports and surveys, is planning for needs through the year 2,010. But some areas within the basin will have more immediate problems.

An engineers' report says, for example, that the Upper Schuylkill River area in Pennsylvania, with Reading as its primary metropolitan area, could start having water shortages by 1971. The commission has adopted a program,
known as the Blue Marsh Project,
to provide water supplies, flood control and recreation for this area.

The commission's plan calls for Blue Marsh to be in operation no later than 1969.

IN EMBRYO STAGE
That is one example, in general terms, of the 20 projects of the commission has scheduled in what it calls phase one of its comprehensive plan. Included are some projects already undertaken by individual states in conjunction with federal agencies.

PA. MENTALLY RETARDED ARE GETTING HELP
IN EDUCATION

An AP News Analysis
By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—There's a more secure future unfolding for Pennsylvania's mentally retarded in a relatively new approach to their education in the public schools.

Increasing numbers of them
each year are being trained, while in school, for full-time jobs in their communities.

This is the so-called work-school program, under which mentally retarded, when they reach the age of 15, spend one-half day in school and one-half day in employment (unpaid).

GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT
Between 400 and 450 children participated in the program this year, reports Dr. Kathryn L. Dice, director of the Bureau of Special Services in the Department of Public Instruction, and that number is expected to rise another 200
next school year.

The program was pioneered six years ago in the Altoona school system. Its success there led gradually to its development on a state wide basis.

Dr. Dice says about 19 counties included work-school training this year in their programs for the mentally retarded.

In some areas, she notes, there is a waiting list of employers wanting to participate.

WIN RECOGNITION
In fact, some schools have reported difficulty retaining youngsters who have proven competent enough to go into full-time employment immediately, without waiting for graduation.

More significantly, she feels, the work-school experience has won for the mentally retarded "recognition that the worth of an individual can be measured in terms of his production and relationship with others as significantly as in terms of his academic progress."

AND THERE
The tragedy of the thousands of persons who drowned last summer is that many lives could have been saved if a rescuer or bystander had known how to apply artificial respiration.

The important things about artificial respiration are:
Known how to do it; start applying it immediately after the victim has been removed from the water. Don't wait for an ambulance or for help to arrive. It probably will be too late.

The American Red Cross
offers courses in life saving that include artificial respiration.
But, even without formal training, most people could manage to give assistance to the rescued swimmer.

There are two methods of artificial respiration currently being taught. Mouth-to-mouth,
and back-pressure, arm-lift.
Of the two, first aid experts usually agree that the mouth-
to-mouth or mouth-to-nose method is the most practical,
in the absence of special equipment.

In the mouth-to-mouth method, first clear the air passages by drawing the tongue forward with your fingers.
Place the victim halfway between a face-up and side position, tilt the head well back to insure a clear air passageway. Take a deep breath, place your mouth over the victim's nose or mouth,
and breathe into his lungs.

Remove your mouth and let the victim exhale. Place your hand between the ribs and naval and apply slight pressure to expel all air. Repeat the cycle 15 times a minute.

The manual method should be used if for any reason the mouth-to-mouth method cannot be used. Place the victim in a face-up position. Place something under the victim's shoulders to raise them and allow the head to drop backward. Grasp victim's arms at the wrists, crossing and pressing victim's wrists against the lower chest. Immediately pull arms upward, outward and backward as far as possible.
Repeat 15 times per minute.

For either method, there are some basic rules. Start immediately. Check mouth for obstructions. Loosen clothing and keep the victim warm,
but don't delay artificial respiration to do this. After the victim revives, be ready to resume respiration if necessary. Have someone call a physician. Don't stop and don't give up unless you're positive the victim is dead.

If an accident occurs at a public pool or public beach,
there likely will be a trained guard present to take over artificial respiration. If you are called on to help in a rescue,
keep calm and move quickly to try to get the victim breathing again as soon as possible.

Letters To The Editor
June 8, 1962
Editor of Gettysburg Times:
Why so much fuss over dogs (one's best friend). I have had them for over 70 years. Traveled in many states with them. And I don't believe they will bark unless something is bothering them or they see something to bark at.
One's love for their pets would not let them bark to bother neighbors. I can't understand the dog man saying one would have to get rid of their dog if a complaint filed. I belong to the SPCA of York. Got my dog there five years ago. And never knew that law.
Please print this letter and I hope it will make people like dogs better. I see no reason for one complaining about walking dogs on leash. I have plenty evergreens and none of mine have been hurt yet. May be Rec field is too far away. I have seen tourists walking their dogs in town. Never heard any complaint.
I'll be looking for my letter in paper. Thanks. An old lady friend of dogs.

Mrs. Lena M. Zech,
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence favors a toll free and expanded Pennsylvania Turnpike.
His views were publicized over the weekend in a letter he addressed to the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. The chamber had written the governor urging that plans be mapped to enlarge the capacity of the toll road.

The chamber said the turnpike will be inadequate when the federal interstate highways program is completed.

Lawrence replied that he agreed that the turnpike eventually should be made free of tolls and that its capacity be expanded. But he rejected a chamber suggestion that one way to pay for the expansion would be to raise the tolls.

PLANS HAVE MERIT
"Making a toll road more expensive, in order to free it faster, seems to me to have little or no
merit," he wrote.

The governor did say, however,
three other chamber suggestions had merit. They were:
Refinance the turnpike debt and carry it by sources other than tolls; amend the federal law to permit federal aid funds to be used for toll-road improvements;
have the federal bureau of roads reassign the interstate mileage of the turnpike to a new road paralleling the turnpike.

NEW DELAY ON STEEL PRICES
WASHINGTON (AP)—Steel companies have been given another two months to submit production figures to the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee.

The figures were subpoenaed after the steel industry's attempt last April to raise steel prices $6 a ton. President Kennedy criticized the increase and it was withdrawn.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of the subcommittee, said Friday this second postponement would be the last. The new deadline is
Aug. 14; originally it was May 14.

Kefauver said through a spokesman the companies had said the requested information was so detailed they could not assemble it in the time allowed.

She told Penny, about it. Penny,

On Thursday Penny phoned offi-

Come on down, we'll have to look and was accepted.

Sunday night she was chosen from among 15 finalists as Miss Pennsylvania and will compete in the Miss U.S.A. competition July 7
in Miami Beach, Fla.

delphia.

"I think it's quite an honor to represent my state," said Miss Lineman. "I thought when I made that (the finals) I thought God has been good to me and I never thought I'd go all the way."

First runner-up in Sunday night's finals was Susan Peterman, 19, Miss Erie. Second runner-up was Rosemary Loughran, 19, also of Philadelphia, Miss Southeastern

Annual June Swoon For Giants Puts Dodgers In NL Lead; Follow Pattern

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

As certain as death and taxes—that's a San Francisco Giants swoon in June.

In each of their first four seasons in San Francisco, the Giants had stormed into June in or very close to first place in the National League standings only to fall flat on their faces in the month of honeymoons and traditional bliss.

This year, their fifth on the West Coast, has been no exception. They absorbed two more defeats at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday—6-5 and 13-3—extending their losing streak to six straight games.

GETTING IN RUT

The double defeat, coupled with Los Angeles' double triumph over Houston, by scores of 9-3 and 9-7, dropped the Giants 2½ games behind the league leading Dodgers. Only a week ago the Giants led the Dodgers two games.

The Giants' June collapse is one of those believe-it-or-nots. Take a look:

1958—The Giants were in first place on June 1, enjoying a one-game lead over Milwaukee. They lost 14 of their next 20 to drop into third place, 3½ games off the pace.

1959—The Giants were in second place, a game in back of Milwaukee on June 1. They lost 9 of their next 16 to fall two games behind.

1960—The Giants were in first place on May 30, leading Pittsburgh by one game. They lost 17 of their next 22 to skid into third place 6½ games behind.

1961—The Giants were in first place on May 29, leading Los Angeles by a game and a half. They lost 8 of their next 10 to fall into third place, two games off the pace.

Pittsburgh took two games from Milwaukee 12-8 and 3-2 Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, winning the second game, 9-2, after the Phillies had won the opener, 7-5. Chicago after losing the first game, 2-1, came from behind with three runs in the ninth and one in the 10th to win the second game 5-4 from New York.

A turnaway crowd of 33,679, largest at Busch Stadium in 10 years, saw the Cardinals extend their winning streak to seven games, which began after eight straight losses. Home runs by Curt Flood and Stan Musial highlighted the double triumph.

Don Drysdale pitched a six-hitter for his 10th victory and first baseman Ron Fairly drove in four runs with a triple, double and two singles in the Dodgers' first-game triumph over Houston. Catcher Norm Sherry batted in four runs in the nightcap, three with a home run in a six-run sixth inning. Don Buddin hit a grand slam homer for the Colts.

ANDRE RODGERS' run-scoring double off relief pitcher Ken McKenzie in the 10th after pinch-hitter Ernie Banks' game-tying three-run homer in the ninth, gave the Cubs a split with the Mets. New York scored the tie-breaking run in the opener on a wild pitch by Dick Ellisworth in the sixth.

The Mets led 4-1 in the nightcap with two out and nobody on base in the bottom of the ninth. Then third baseman Rod Kanehl booted Dick Berrell's bouncer, Bob Will walked and Banks crashed his 15th home run on an 0-2 count.

5TH FOR BANKS

Andre Rodgers' run-scoring double off relief pitcher Ken McKenzie in the 10th after pinch-hitter Ernie Banks' game-tying three-run homer in the ninth, gave the Cubs a split with the Mets. New York scored the tie-breaking run in the opener on a wild pitch by Dick Ellisworth in the sixth.

JOHANSSON, ROSSI MAKE TITLE BIDS

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ingemar Johansson and Paolo Rossi, a couple of fighters who had their day of glory, make new bids for world title fights in the coming week.

Johansson, the former world and European heavyweight ruler, aims to regain the European crown in a 15-round title fight with Welshman Dick Richardson, the defender, at Goteborg, Sweden, Sunday, June 17.

HOPES ARE HIGH

The big Swede has high hopes of meeting the winner of the Sept. 25 title fight between champion Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston. Rossi, who was stopped on cuts in the title fight with world lightweight champion Joe Brown three years ago, takes on slick Carlos Hernandez, third ranking lightweight contender, in the television (ABC TV 9 p.m., EST) fight of the week at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

The winner may get a crack at newly crowned lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, Hernandez is from Venezuela. Rossi is an Italian now living in New York.

OTHERS BATTLE

There is an international touch to most of the other key fights of the week.

At Glasgow, Scotland, Thursday, middleweight contender Henry Hank of Detroit, meets John (Cowboy) McCormack, the former European middleweight champion from Glasgow.

At Rome, Italy, Friday night, Chuck Garrett of Chicago opposes light heavyweight contender Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, in a 10-round, and France's Gracius Lamperti and Italy's Lino Mastellaro clash for the European featherweight crown.

Zora Foley, the No. 3 heavyweight contender from Chandler, Ariz., tangles with Paul Andrews of Los Angeles in a 10-round at Sacramento, Calif., Tuesday night. Andrews formerly fought out of Buffalo, N.Y.

Denny Moyer hopes to regain prestige for the fighting Moyer in a return bout with Teddy Wright at Madison Square Garden, July 7. Wright, a stringy welterweight from Detroit made it two out of two with the Moyers by gaining a split decision over Denny at the Garden last Saturday night. Two weeks ago Teddy outpointed Phil Moyer, who substituted for Denny, in the same arena.

Jim Redding, nine-year-old right-hander, pitched his first game and turned in a neat three-hitter against the Orioles and struck out nine. Stevie Dutterer, also a nine-year-old, was his opponent and deserved a much better fate, suffering from ragged support afield.

South Africa May Lose Olympic Bid

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The International Olympic Committee apparently is going to be faced with the task of taking action against South Africa—probably barring the country from the Olympic Games—because of its segregation policies.

Last week, the IOC warned South Africa that it would be suspended if it did not change its policy of racial segregation in sports.

The IOC received its answer Sunday. South Africa will not yield an inch.

Minister of the Interior Jan Dekker told a rally of the ruling National Party.

"Our National Party policy (racial separation) is the only policy for the white man in South Africa."

FRANCO CURBS LIBERTIES OF HIS PEOPLE

MADRID (AP) — Plagued by bombings and crippling strikes, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime Saturday suspended for two years the Spanish people's constitutional right to choose where they want to live in Spain.

Under the sweeping edict, the government can control the movement of anyone opposed to Franco and keep agitators out of industrial centers hit by a seven-week siege of strikes that paralyzed mines and key factories.

The strike—illegal in Spain—dropped off sharply late last month after the government promised some workers pay boosts of up to 50 per cent.

Franco's cabinet approved the decree suspending a key clause in Spain's bill of rights a few hours after the second bomb incident in three days rocked the Banco Popular, a big financial institution in the heart of Madrid.

Police blamed the left-wing Popular Liberation Front for the bombings which shattered windows in the bank and caused other damage. They were linked to recent strikes.

The cabinet pointed up the decree with an announcement which said:

"The campaigns which from outside are being made to harm Spain's credit and prestige have found echo and complicity in some persons who, using the liberties which the (bill of rights) recognizes, have joined such unworthy maneuvers."

Franco has charged that Soviet subversion and "hot-headed, separatist" Catholic priests played a major role in the strikes which idled more than 60,000 workers in the provinces of Asturias, Leon, Bilbao, Barcelona and Madrid itself.

Some priests have supported the North Basque region's demands for independence. Others have openly backed the strikes for higher wages.

Franco said, however, the attitude of some priests did not alter the fundamental harmony between the church and state Roman Catholicism is the state religion in Spain.

Durantes Adopt Baby Girl Friday

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Comedian Jimmy Durante and his wife, Margaret, adopted a 6-month-old girl, Cecelia Alicia, Friday.

"What a feeling it was when the judge said, 'The baby is yours,'" said Durante, playing it straight for one of the relatively rare times in his life.

"What a wonderful feeling! I just started shaking."

Durante, 69, and Mrs. Durante, 42, were married Dec. 14, 1960.

Godparents of the blue-eyed baby, neither of whom was present at the adoption ceremonies, are Danny Thomas and Louella Parsons.

21 OVATIONS FOR ADENAUER

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer put on a lively performance this week to answer people who keep asking:

Isn't an 86-year-old man too old to run the country? Isn't the chancellor losing his grip after nearly 13 years in office?

He showed plenty of vitality during the four taxing days his Christian Democrat party was in convention. He evidenced few if any signs of inability to concentrate while he made two one-hour speeches and held a news conference where some of the questions got tricky.

Men who were with him from 8 a.m. to midnight for four days say his stamina was unbelievable.

His keynote speech was delivered from notes without text. He received 21 ovations. Applause interrupted him 36 times, and there were 18 outbursts of laughter.

MISS MONROE IS BOOTED OUT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is out of work today—fired by the same studio that made her a star.

The sacking, which caught almost no one by surprise, came Friday only hours after Marilyn notified 20th Century-Fox that she

FINISHES 1ST YEAR AT CAL. AT AGE OF 13

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lance Kerr could be almost any age. But he happens to be 13.

He finished his freshman year Friday at the University of California at Los Angeles. And, he admits, it went pretty well.

"It won't be an A average," he said, reviewing the grades he expects in anthropology, physics, math and Russian. "I believe I can depend on at least a strong B."

Lance is less than 5 feet tall, weighs 85 pounds, and speaks with the soft tenor voice of a youngster in his early teens.

But his vocabulary is vast, his pronunciation precise. He is quiet, poised and mannerly. He speaks like a grownup—one disarmingly posed as a slender boy.

Lance learned to read at age 2. How he learned was a mystery to his parents, Sylvia and Leon Kerr. "No one ever taught him," said Mrs. Kerr.

When he was just barely 4 he went to the library for a library card. The librarian made him was "ready and eager to return to work Monday morning."

But the studio wasn't impressed and called in Lee Remick to take over.

In another development, the studio announced it had begun legal action against Marilyn to recover $500,000 allegedly lost as a result of the star's frequent absences from the set.

Marilyn's absentee record included five performance days in seven weeks of shooting for the movie "Something's Got To Give." The picture now is 32 days behind schedule and more than $2 million in debt because of Marilyn's no-show.

"It's sad," said one front-office executive. "But no studio these days can afford to have Liz Taylor and Marilyn Monroe working at the same time—especially a studio that lost $25 million last year."

Miss Taylor's absences from the set have helped run the cost of "Cleopatra" to $30 million—the all-time high in movie costs.

South Korean Students Are Demonstrating Against Yanks

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Anti-American demonstrations spread in South Korea Saturday. The U.S. Army ordered American military personnel in the Seoul area restricted to base except for official business.

A U.S. Army spokesman called the confinement order a "temporary measure to reduce the possibility of incidents" in view of the wave of demonstrations demanding the U.S. government sign a status-of-forces agreement giving South Korea court jurisdiction over American servicemen in some instances.

About 300 university students defying stern new warnings from South Korea's ruling military junta marched out of Taegu University today in the third demonstration in a week stemming from the alleged beating of a Korean civilian trespasser by two U.S. Army officers last month.

A solid wall of police halted the students about 100 yards from the main gate of the university in South Korea's third largest city, about 200 miles southeast of Seoul.

Refusing to withdraw, the students squatted in the street and turned their protest into a sit-down strike. There were no reports of violence.

The government announced Friday night that the United States has agreed in principle to resume negotiations toward a status-of-forces pact. But it said Washington had raised issues which South Korea "finds difficult to accept."

It did not elaborate on these points but said the United States has been asked to reconsider them.

Reports from Washington quoted officials there as saying "very active consideration" is being given to an agreement.

WOULD OUST 5 TRUSTEES

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Commonwealth has asked a court to remove four of the five trustees of the Barnes Foundation, charging "reckless disregard" in the care of the art collection.

The petition, filed in Montgomery County Orphans Court Friday, asked permission to amend the current petition before the court that seeks a permanent injunction against a proposed $2 admission fee at the gallery.

The petition Friday repeated Commonwealth charges that the gallery is engaged in a program "deliberately designed to harass the public and waste funds... and to discourage attendance."

The only trustee whose removal the state did not request was Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, widow of Dr. Albert C. Barnes, who established the collection after making millions in the development of a mouthwash.

The gallery, which is tax-exempt, has been under attack for several years by the Commonwealth. It alleges that restrictive admission policies and improper management deny the taxpaying public full use of the collection, which has been valued at $100 million.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A former sheriff of Cumberland County, Frederick B. Mentzer of Carlisle, died in nearby Windber Hospital at the age of 97.

STORMS HIT WIDE AREAS IN MIDWEST

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms hit wide areas along a front stretching from Illinois to northwest Texas early Saturday while most of the rest of the nation enjoyed dry, summer-like weather.

The front separated a mass of cool, dry air covering the northern part of the country from warm, moist air pushing north from the gulf. Rainfall ranged from light showers to 1.1 inches at South Bend, Ind.

Several tornadoes were spawned by the turbulent weather Friday night. Twisters hit Goodwell and West Guymon, both in the handle region of Oklahoma. Funnel clouds were sighted earlier at Big Spring, Tex., and Warrensburg, Mo.

High winds downed utility lines in several of Chicago's northwest suburbs and blanked out radar operations for a time at O'Hare International Airport in the same area.

A hail storm wiped out the cotton crop in a five-mile swath across about 30 miles of Terry County, Tex. Heavy property damage also was reported.

Temperatures were in the 60s and 70s during the night in all sections of the nation except the northeast, the central and northern Rockies, parts of the plains states and most of the Pacific Coast. The lowest reading reported was 41 at Laramie, Wyo.

Showers and thunderstorms were expected today in nearly all areas from the plains region eastward.

PROFESSOR AT PSU HONORED

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania State University conferred its coveted superior teaching award Saturday on Dr. Richard G. Stoner, 42-year-old professor of physics.

The award, a plaque and a check for $1,000, was presented to Dr. Stoner by University President Eric A. Walker during commencement exercises.

It was established in 1958 to recognize outstanding service, encourage superior teaching and advance the cause of higher education.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Professor Stoner has been at Penn State since 1948. He is a graduate of Princeton University and served four years there as an assistant physicist with the national defense research committee.

He was promoted to associate professor at Penn State in 1962 and to full professor in 1961.

Van Zandt Hits At Kennedy And Clark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, has criticized the Democratic incumbent, Joseph S. Clark, for "his extravagant spending ideas and his left wing tendencies."

Van Zandt said Friday that his campaign to unseat Clark in November is "a basic contest between our American free enterprise system and socialism."

He spoke at a GOP finance committee rally that launched a campaign to raise about $3 million for the statewide Republican campaign.

He also criticized President Kennedy's legislative program, saying, "Every message we have received in Congress from the executive department puts us closer to the welfare state than ever before in our history."

WOULD CHANGE U.S. MEASURES

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' most vocal advocate of the meter, the liter and the gram said today he is ready to try again to have them made standard in the United States.

And the sole remaining active member of the self-styled "Economy Party" is as determined as ever that Congress shall not authorize $500,000 for a study of the possibilities and problems of substituting the metric system for the weights and measures now standard in this country.

So another clash between Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, and Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, appears inevitable.

Gross has won them all so far. But Miller says he has effective new tactics and arguments.

"The pharmaceutical industry—which is not a small one—already is on the metric system," he said.

"The big new development is the drive for us to have close trade relationships with the European Common Market. If we are to do business with them, it makes sense to use the same measures they do."

GIRL DIES OF MENINGITIS

WEATHERLY, Pa. (AP) — Health officials have appealed to hundreds of persons who were in contact with 16-year-old Margaret Mary Marusak in the past week to undergo physical examinations at once.

The girl died Thursday night in a Hazleton hospital and an autopsy Friday established the cause as acute and very infectious meningitis.

Meningitis is an inflammation of the membranes enveloping the brain and spinal cord.

In the past week the girl, only child of Carl and Pauline Marusak, had attended an outing with girl scouts at Camp Onawandah in northeastern Pennsylvania, her school classes, and the Weatherly High School junior prom, Wednesday night.

It was at the dance that she became ill. By Thursday she appeared critical and was rushed to the hospital.

Dr. Julius Foldes, Hazleton pathologist, informed Weatherly authorities of the diagnosis and the Board of Health issued its appeal last night.

PLAN HYMN "HIT PARADE"

LONDON (AP) — An Anglican cleric said today "hit parade" hymns are the thing to get people back to church.

Canon E. C. Blake, the Church of England's director of education for the diocese of Lincoln, said:

"If we wish to secure a hearing for the gospel today, we must speak in terms that people understand, using their idiom for our good news. There can be no doubt that an idiom readily understood by most people today is that of 'pop' music."

Canon Blake reported that a body including clergymen, organists and schoolmasters are now specializing in producing "sermons on songs." They call themselves "The 20th Century Church Light Music Group."

They recently have published "Rhythm in Religion"—a collection of eight new "pop" songs with a religious theme.

GLEASON LETS SOME WORDS OF WISDOM DROP

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The sign on the dressing room suite read "The Great One," so you knew it had to belong to Jackie Gleason.

Inside you were greeted by members of the Gleason staff and ushered into the presence of the man himself. He was sitting in a corner, his barrel shape wrapped in a white terry-cloth robe. He was drinking—coffee. "Never drink booze on the job," he explained. "But afterwards—watch out!"

1ST FILM IN YEARS

Gleason was at Paramount for "Papa's Delicate Condition," his first Hollywood film in a dozen years. The circumstances are somewhat different this time.

"That last one was called 'Desert Hawk,' and it was a lulu," he recounted. "Tell you how I got the job."

"I went to see the producer and he was having a pedicure. I want you to know, he was saying, 'Watch out, Mildred, how you cut the big toe,' while I was trying to tell him what a great Arab I would make."

REALLY WORRIED

"Finally he said, 'Can you ride?' I said I could ride like the wind—I had never been on a horse in my life. He said, 'Can you duel?' I said I was a whiz at fencing—I didn't know the first thing about it."

"Then he said, 'You can't have the job.' I said 'Why not?' and he said, 'Because you got blue eyes, and Arabs don't have blue eyes.' 'I said, 'Then you're in trouble. Bud, because your leading man is Richard Greene, and he has two of the bluest eyes I've ever seen!'"

DID SIX FILMS

"The guy was really worried and he called up research and said, 'See if there are any Arabs with blue eyes.' The answer came back that there may be two or three Arabs somewhere with blue eyes. So he told me I could have the job."

"I never got close enough to the camera for anyone to see my eyes. Most of the time I was peeking around Rock Hudson."

Such was Gleason's first movie career. He did six films in the '40s, including "Orchestra Wives" and "Navy Blues."

McSherrystown

MRS. LESTER BOWMAN

McSHERRYSTOWN — A/IC Cyril F. Weaver Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Weaver, 115 Second St., is spending a 20-day furlough at the home of his parents. Airman Weaver has completed his basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas. Following his leave he will be sent to Minot AFB, N. D.

Catherine Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Keffer, 414 North St., was baptized Sunday morning in the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church, by the Rev. Thomas Lawler. Sponsors were William Leonard and Mary Keffer, uncle and aunt of the child.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick McGee and Rev. Richard Hartnett will attend retreat this week.

The banns of marriage were published for the first time this week in the Annunciation Church between Peter James Seitz, of St. Joseph's, Hanover, and Donna Virginia Krichen, of Annunciation parish, and Alan Livelsberger and Jeannette Horwedel, both of Annunciation parish.

Diocesan meeting of the Holy Name Societies will be held next Sunday at Holy Name Parish in Harrisburg at 2:30 p.m. The Holy Name Memorial will be dedicated and all who can do so should attend the dedication and meeting, the announcement said.

"Most of the time I was playing with scene-stealers like Jack Oakie, Martha Raye, Peter Lorre and Edward Everett Horton," he recalled. "I never had a chance."

HIS GRAPE PHILOSOPHY

His second time around is another matter. He got an Oscar nomination for "The Hustler." His "Gigot" and "Requiem for a Heavyweight" are highly touted. And now "Papa's Delicate Condition."

One of Papa's delicate conditions in the film is that he naps, and Gleason admitted the casting was apt. He gave his philosophy on the grape:

"If you don't know why you're drinking, you're in trouble. I've always drunk for one reason only: To get smashed."

"As I told Arthur Godfrey once, drinking can remove warts, wrinkles, pimples and other blemishes. Not on yourself—on other people."

GHOULISH TALE IS TOLD SUNDAY ON NBC SHOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Allen, the famous motion picture star, died a hero while rescuing his beloved wife from their burning home. So they took Billy back to Charity, Kan., where he grew up and where his parents still lived, for the funeral.

And it was in Charity, before the service, that we picked up Billy's story in "The Movie Star," Sunday night on NBC. It was an unpleasant, ghoulish tale.

Before 60 minutes had passed, we found that Billy's parents had never understood him—never really knew much about him, in fact. His marriage had long been a failure. Worse, Billy was a thoroughgoing heel. His heroism was a cover-up invented by his manager; the star was too drunk to escape his flaming home. His wife already had decided to leave him.

CROWNING TOUCH

As the crowning touch, his sister-in-law, staggering drunk at memorial services, arose to scream that her child was Billy's—not that of the brother who had died a hero in Korea.

William Bast, who wrote this macabre play, apparently was attempting to recreate the tasteless atmosphere of carnival surrounding the funeral of a celebrity. They were all there, the souvenir-hunting kids, the cranks and the maniacs who entered into the spirit of it all.

JULIE AND CAROL

That part was an interesting idea. But the basic device was hardly novel: revealing the real, unattractive person behind the facade of glamor in bits and pieces as the story progresses. The mob hysteria was subordinate to this.

Recommended tonight: "Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall," CBS, 10-11 (ET)—Julie Andrews and Carol Burnett in their two-woman show, in which they poke gentle fun at everything from Russian choral groups to Westerns.

16 INJURED IN TANK BLAST

MILLSBORO, Del. (AP)—A 100-pound tank of propane gas exploded during a fire safety demonstration Sunday. Sixteen persons suffered burns, none seriously.

Ralph Brittingham, a member of the Millsboro Fire Company, said about 200 persons were on hand when the explosion occurred during the annual demonstration of fire fighting techniques by fire companies in Sussex County.

Brittingham said a fire was built around the 100-pound tank and the heat was exploded to blow out a safety valve, making the tank into a torch. Instead, he said, the valve failed and the tank exploded. Cause of the malfunction of the valve was not immediately determined.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

What people are most happy in their work? Surveys show they are teachers, social workers, clergymen, and writers. (Writers?)

It hardly seems worth while: Someone has figured out that for us to really get equal to Russia we would have to rip up 14 of every 15 miles of our paved highways, destroy two out of every three miles of our railroads, sink eight out of nine of our ships, junk 19 out of every 20 of our cars, destroy 40 million television sets, get rid of nine of every 10 telephones—and cut our paychecks by three-fourths.

MINK BIKINI'S

Were you born with flat feet? Some of the greatest athletes rose above this handicap. A classic example was Jesse Owens, the great U.S. Olympic star.

For the man or woman who has almost everything: A London outfit now makes up special safari-packs of martinis in aluminum-foil bags. Furrier Mike Forrest here is now featuring mink bikinis at $500 each.

Learn your language: Diamond comes from a Greek word "adamas," meaning "unconquerable" and "unchanging."

SCIENCE WAS WRONG

Our quotable notables: "Life is made up of sobs, sniffles, and smiles, with sniffles predominating."—O. Henry.

Our wise elders: When 19th Century railroad locomotives first achieved a record 30 m.p.h., the Munich College of Physicians warned rail travel at that speed would damage vision. In England, it was predicted that traveling 30 m.p.h. would cause insanity.

How they got started: William Gibson, who wrote the Anne Bancroft film vehicle, "The Miracle Worker," used to play piano in beer parlors before he won success as a playwright.

TUNES ARE BETTER

Prosperity note: Only about one of every 30 workers is unemployed today. But in depression-ridden 1933, one in every four was jobless.

Odd legislation: A Midwest community once made it illegal for a woman weighing more than 200 pounds to wear shorts while riding a horse.

Feathered chivalry: The male hawk, one of the most greedy and aggressive of all birds, isn't a bad husband. During periods of courtship and incubation he gallantly hunts food for, and feeds his mate.

75,000 MISHAPS

We all have our ups and downs: Some 255,900 U.S. passenger elevators transport 41 billion passengers a distance exceeding 138 million miles each year.

How many shoes does your wife buy a year? If it is more than five pairs (the feminine average), maybe she's spending too much time on her feet.

It's getting more dangerous to cut the grass. America now has about 75,000 power lawnmower accidents annually.

FORGOTTEN HERO

The sky is always busy somewhere. There are thousands of thunderstorms each day on earth, and roughly 300,000 lightning flashes an hour.

Forgotten heroes: Does the mined.

The injured included both volunteer firemen and friends and relatives watching the demonstration. Eight of the injured, including three children, were held for treatment and observation at Beebe Hospital in Lewes, Del. The others were treated and released.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

WOODEN OR WILLOWY? Nothing like a swim suit reveals the lack of feminine grace. It really points up awkwardness for what it is—unattractive of itself and detrimental to the figure as well.

Whether your figure is good, bad or indifferent your carriage affects it for better or worse. For example, a plodding walk causes heavy legs to look wooden. Thin legs seem positively splintery, if they move in a disjointed, gangling fashion.

Obviously a would-be bathing beauty could take no more than to check on the present state of her grace. Here's a little checklist:

Do your heels make either a thudding or a shuffling sound when you walk? Do your arms feel stiff, or do they flap about? Do you need a derrick or a pick-up truck to retrieve objects from the floor?

All "yes" answers show a need name Joseph Lalande mean anything to you? He is the French astronomer who demonstrated conclusively that manned flight was a scientific impossibility. Then along came the Wright Brothers.

One of the things that would annoy you most if you were an elephant would be a bad case of the itch. You'd have 40 square yards of skin to scratch!

It was Mark Twain who observed, "There are several good protections against temptation, but the surest is cowardice."

POLLY ADLER DIES OF CANCER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former call house madam Polly Adler, who wrote "A House Is Not a Home" about her experiences, died of cancer Saturday.

Miss Adler, 62, freely admitted in her 1933 book that she spent 25 years running a house of prostitution in New York City.

Miss Adler said she wrote her autobiography because she was left without money by police crackdowns and income tax suits. It sold 100,000 copies.

In the book she told of frequent police raids and of paying thousands in bribes plus entertaining authorities to avoid being put out of business.

She was arrested in 1935 and pleaded guilty to a charge of conducting a disorderly house. She was fined $500 and served 24 days of a 30-day sentence.

A native of Yanov, Russia, she was born Pearl Adler. She became a naturalized citizen in 1929.

When friends offered to help write her book, she turned them down with: "Too many cooks spoil the brothel."

for tuning up your muscles and limbering your joints. Once you've done both, you will take on the willowy grace of a water sprite. It's automatic! And now for the routine that turns the trick:

1. Stand with feet together, fold arms on chest, and place hands on shoulders. 2. Rise on tiptoes, bend knees until hips touch heels, then fling arms out to sides at shoulder level. 3. Slide right foot out to right side, as far as possible; hold for three counts and return to position. 4. Fold arms on chest and come to erect position. 5. Relax and repeat entire routine ten times, always working for a smoother and faster performance.

Pa. Fisherman Is Presumed Drowned

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP)—A Pennsylvania man was missing and presumed drowned today after a motor boat capsized in Delaware Bay. A Pennsylvania couple was rescued.

Authorities said Charles Lawrence, 30, of Route 1, Elverson, Pa., owner of the fishing boat, was missing and presumed drowned.

Harold Miller, 35, and his wife, Eva, 30, of Pottstown, Pa., were rescued about five hours after the 14-foot vessel turned over Sunday.

Mrs. Miller, who was wearing a lifejacket, was rescued by a passing boat. A helicopter team from Dover Air Force base in Delaware plucked Miller from the water. He had stayed afloat by hanging onto a life jacket.

GA. CATHOLIC SCHOOLS MUST DESEGREGATE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has ordered Atlanta archdiocesan schools desegregated this fall in a move supported by leading Catholic laymen and the mayor of Atlanta.

The historic decision applied to Catholic schools in the 71 north Georgia counties of the archdiocese where about 7,500 pupils are enrolled. The total includes 735 negroes, all in Atlanta.

Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan said it was up to local bishops elsewhere in the archdiocesan province to decide what action to take in their areas. That included other sections of Georgia as well as North and South Carolina and Florida, all under the archbishop's titular control.

The desegregation decision was announced in a pastoral letter read during Sunday services in all the churches of the north Georgia archdiocese.

"Catholic children, regardless of race or color, will be admitted to Catholic schools of the archdiocese as of Sept. 1, 1962," the letter said.

"I think it is something long overdue," commented Catholic layman G. Albert Lawton, president of Georgia International Life Insurance Co., who moved to Atlanta from Connecticut three years ago. His two children attend Catholic schools in Rhode Island and New York.

Another Catholic layman, Superior Court Judge Sam P. McKenzie of the Atlanta Judicial Circuit, said he was confident the Archbishop "will get the support of a great majority of the Catholics in the archdiocese."

METS SAY 'THANKS'

Hank Zureick, publicity director of the champion Cincinnati Reds, has been sending background to the New York Mets on several players who were picked up by the Mets in the league's expansion to 10 teams. The Mets feel this is a fine gesture by a team that lost Gus Bell and Elio Chacon to the Mets.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

DR. JOHN MCCLELLAN
"The McClellans of Marsh Creek," the chronicle of a pioneer family, who settled on what was then the far western frontier early in the 18th century, is continued at this time.

Dr. John McClellan, who was undoubtedly a member of the Adams County clan, is buried in the old Moss Spring Presbyterian Graveyard, located near Greencastle, Franklin County, Pennsylvania. The inscriptions from the stones in his family burial plot are as follows:

1. "In memory of Dr. John McClellan. Died June 11, 1846. Aged 84 years."

2. "Sacred to the memory of Eleanor Bell McClellan, the wife of Dr. John McClellan. Died December 16, 1827. Aged 41 years."

3. "In memory of George McClellan, the son of Dr. John and Eleanor Bell McClellan. Born November 1823. Died August 1834."

5. "In memory of Prudence Maria McClellan daughter of Dr. John and Eleanor Bell McClellan. Died May 29, 1827. Aged 17 years."

No further data pertaining to this branch of the McClellan family is available at the present time.

MRS. MCCLELLAN DIES

16. Monday, March 31, 1851 — "Died, Wednesday evening, March 26, 1851, Mrs. Martha E. McClellan, the wife of William B. McClellan, Esq., of this borough (Gettysburg) aged 27 years, 3 months, and 13 days."

Note: Martha B. McCosh, the daughter of John McCosh, and the wife of William B. McClellan, a practicing attorney in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the son of William McClellan, fifth of the name, and Mary (Hersh) McClellan, Martha (McCosh) McClellan is buried in Area A of the Evergreen Cemetery.

Due to the fact that Martha (McCosh) McClellan died before the establishment of the Evergreen Cemetery (the first burial place on November 1, 1854) she was probably first interred in the family burial ground on Marsh Creek or the old Presbyterian Churchyard, at one time located in the first block of North Washington Street. All clues would point to the family plot — the most logical place for members of the McClellan clan to bury their dead.

17. Monday, July 28, 1851 — BABY EXPIRES
"Died, Wednesday last, July 23, 1851, Mary Deborah McClellan, the daughter of William B. McClellan, Esq., of this borough (Gettysburg), aged 2 years and 6 months."

Note: The daughter of William B. and Martha (McCosh) McClellan, who died some four months after her mother. It is reasonable to assume that this child was first buried in the family graveyard on Marsh Creek — close to the grave of her mother.

18. Monday, July 23, 1860 — "Died, Thursday, July 19, 1860, after a brief but severe illness,

STATE TO OPEN 3 NEW MENTAL INSTITUTIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Welfare Department reports it plans to open three new mental health institutions this year—two for children and one for adults.

The children's institutions are the Eastern State School and Hospital in Bensalem Twp., Bucks County, and the Western State School and Hospital, Canonsburg, Washington County.

The adult facility is the Haverford State Hospital in Delaware County. Department officials hope the children's facilities will be ready to open in August while they expect Haverford to begin receiving patients by July 1.

"CAN BE DELAYS"
However, Mental Health Commissioner John E. Davis cautioned there "can be delays" in the opening dates, depending on the time required to recruit a trained professional staff for the institutions.

All three are General State Authority projects and, the department says, represent an element of the expansion program initiated in this field in 1955-56 under former Gov. George M. Leader.

Welfare Secretary Ruth Grigg Horting said the state's major concern in mental health services is to rehabilitate the afflicted and restore them to the community.

But, she added, "we must also prepare for admissions."

TO COST MILLIONS
When ready, the Bensalem facility will have a bed capacity for 340 emotionally disturbed children while Canonsburg will accommodate 500 retarded children and 200 emotionally disturbed children.

Davis explained that mental retardation deals with the inability of a child to learn—his intellectual capability—while emotional disturbance applies to the child's behavior patterns—his sensory reactions.

Terms such as moron, feeble-minded, imbecile are "passe," he said.

The Bensalem facility will cost $7.7 million and Canonsburg, $9.5 million. Expansion is planned for the future at both institutions.

Say 3,035 Drivers Lost Pa. Licenses

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Bureau of Traffic Safety reports that 3,035 Pennsylvania drivers have had their licenses suspended because they failed to complete their physical re-examinations.

The re-examination program was initiated in November, 1960, as an important feature of the Lawrence administration's high-waifs safety program.

The bureau reported over the weekend that 394,910 re-examination notices have been issued since then. Officials said the bureau would continue to suspend the licenses of drivers who fail to complete the mandated physicals.

Young Couples Should Learn How To Handle Their Funds

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Young married couples need to know how to handle money. Even though their current income may be limited, they control a sizable amount of purchasing power.

MRS. TUNISON

One market development or organization predicts an average expenditure of $15,000 per couple during the next 15 years for such items as housing, furnishings, equipment and automobiles.

Young couples are likely to have limited incomes to establish a household. They need knowledge and experience to help make their income provide the things they want and need. Some of these young people gained their knowledge from observing money management practices at home or planning and spending their earnings or allowances. However, buying for a family's needs presents problems different from those of buying for an individual.

TRAIN CHILDREN

Parents who recognize a need for money management skills start early to train their children. Educational programs in schools and in 4-H clubs can help educate young persons in money management. Early training becomes more important as the trend toward early marriage continues. Many girls jump from high school student to homemaker, and many boys find themselves husbands and heads of households by the time they can vote. The young employed homemaker needs to consider her income as part of the family income, too.

Fresh strawberries on the fruit market are a welcome sight to many shoppers these days. Pennsylvania grown berries should be on the market soon after June 1, with the peak of the season around June 15.

RICH IN VITAMIN

Fresh strawberries are a rich source of Vitamin C and may be used instead of citrus fruit at breakfast and other meals. Three-fourths of a cup of strawberries will provide the major portion of an adult's daily vitamin C requirements. One cup of fresh berries is higher in vitamin C than the same amount of any other home-grown fruit. Cantaloupe rates next to strawberries in its vitamin C content.

When buying berries, look for plump, fully ripe but firm fruit of a good size for the variety. Fresh berries will have a luster with no evidence of mold or decay. Berries without caps may be over-ripe, have an off-flavor, and may have had rough handling.

STORE PROPERLY

To get the most value from the berries you buy, store them properly. Roll the berries out of the box into a shallow tray so they won't be more than two layers deep, taking out soft or spoiled berries. Also separate the ripe from the not so ripe ones. Store the berries with the caps on in the refrigerator. Two or three days should be the maximum storage time; one or two days are better.

If buying berries to freeze and you have a chance to choose a variety, ask for Catskill or Sparkle. Either one freezes successfully as does Robinson if the berries are not overripe.

TREAT GRASS STAINS

Prompt treatment and the right method make it easy to remove grass and green vegetable stains. The method used will depend upon the type of fabric.

Remove any surface grass or foliage with a dull knife. Always work from the wrong side of the fabric, forcing the stain out instead of imbedding it.

On washable fabrics, sponge the stain with cool water or soak in cool, clear water 30 minutes or longer. Some stains may need to soak overnight. If stain remains after sponging or soaking, work a synthetic detergent into the stain, then rinse. A concentrated liquid detergent is easy to work into and rinse out of the fabric. If the stain is stubborn and remains after the detergent treatment, use a chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide. Follow instructions on the container for using the bleach. Do not use a chlorine bleach on a wash-and-wear fabric unless the label on the garment states that this type of bleach is safe to use.

Treat grass stains on nonwashable fabrics the same as on washable fabrics except after the detergent treatment sponge with alcohol if it is safe for the fabric. Use one part alcohol to two parts water for stains on an acetate fabric. When not removed promptly, grass stains on nonwashable fabrics may need the attention of a commercial dry cleaner.

Retraining Closes 15 Relief Cases

HARRISBURG (AP) — Latest Welfare Department figures show that 55 public assistance cases involving 198 persons were closed during the fiscal year because of job retraining programs in Pennsylvania.

The department also reported Saturday that 27 cases involving 111 persons were reduced for the same reason.

Translated into dollars-and-cents the department estimates the state can save $90,000 a year as retraining programs take unemployed workers off the assistance rolls.

Secretary Ruth Grigg Horting said that 82 persons receiving public assistance have completed training courses and found jobs during the current fiscal year.

REPORTS "PANIC"

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republicans claim there is "panic" within the Lawrence Administration because of a $15.4 million lag in tax collection last month.

What is more, GOP State Chairman George I. Bloom says "urgent, top-secret orders" have been issued by Gov. Lawrence for reduced government spending.

This is to ensure a balanced budget at the end of the current fiscal year—June 30—Bloom said in a weekend statement.

No GOP Decision On Court Candidate

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom said Sunday nothing definite has been decided about the time or method for selecting the GOP candidate for the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Reports from Philadelphia stated that U.S. Rep. William W. Scranton, the GOP gubernatorial candidate, wants a special committee of party leaders to recommend the candidate.

Bloom, however, would say only that there "has been some talk" of the panel method, but that "nothing definite" has been decided.

The chairman also said it was questionable whether the candidate would be selected at the State Committee's biennial reorganization meeting this weekend in Philadelphia.

IMPEACHMENT THREAT VOICED

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Speaker Hiram G. Andrews threatened to move for the impeachment of any state judge who attempts to resolve reapportionment of the General Assembly by declaring the State Constitution unconstitutional.

Andrews, a Johnstown Democrat, showed particular concern for a provision of the State Constitution which entitles each of the Commonwealth's 67 counties to one seat in the State House.

In remarks prepared for broadcast Saturday in his home city, Andrews contended that only the electorate can amend that provision so as to allow representation to be based on population.

Four suits were brought to Commonwealth Court last Monday challenging the current apportionment of the General Assembly. Two of the sponsors agreed first to give the legislature an opportunity to redistrict itself before seeking judicial relief.

The court has under consideration a request for an injunction to stop the election of 210 House members and 25 state senators in the Nov. 6 general election.

Chavez Press Box Invaded By Julie

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sacred sanctum has been breached — the press box at Chavez Ravine was invaded for the first time by a female guest.

Since the invader was Juliet Prowse, nobody complained. Sportswriters caught a wink and mink and turned to see the dancer and Eddie Fisher.

They were invited in by columnist Walter Winchell during Sunday's doubleheader between the Kansas City Athletics and the Los Angeles Angels.

Miss Prowse prowled through, followed by the scent of perfume and every eye, then returned with Fisher to their box seats.

PA. DISTRICT LIBRARY PLAN BEING STUDIED

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state is considering proposals to create 29 district library centers throughout the Commonwealth.

The details of the proposals were revealed over the weekend by state librarian Ralph Blasingame Jr., who said he would use them as guides rather than be bound by specific recommendations in each case.

They were contained in a $12,000 report prepared by the Pennsylvania State University Institute of Public Administration and are designed to aid Blasingame in designating the district libraries under the 1961 library code.

Blasingame said he hoped to make a final decision on the district centers within three months.

The library aid program provides that every approved library is entitled to up to 25 cents in state aid for each person in its service area. District libraries are entitled to receive up to an additional 25 cents for each person in the district.

The proposed district libraries include:

York, Martin Memorial Library; Harrisburg, Harrisburg Public Library; Chambersburg, Franklin County Library; Lewisburg, Bucknell University Library; State College, Pennsylvania State University Library.

RETIREES 2ND TIME AT 91

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — "I don't want to stay around here," the minister told his board of stewards, "until you fellows look at me askance and say, 'Why doesn't that old rascal move on?'"

The Rev. Walter Scott Robinson then retired from active ministry for the second time in 91 years. He retired the first time in 1942 when he reached the mandatory retirement age of 72. He soon returned to the pulpit as a supply pastor as more and more young ministers were called to the war.

He served Decatur's First Methodist church as associate pastor until his recent second retirement. He began his ministerial career as a circuit rider 64 years ago. An enthusiastic golfer for many years, he still gets out on the course occasionally, but hasn't played much lately "because the old legs have gone back on me. After about six holes I begin to tire."

Robinson began playing golf at 52 when his doctor advised him to give up tennis. "He told me tennis was too strenuous."
